TRY CONNIE MACK ON BOGUS COINS

Alleged Gettysburg Coins, Valued at Small Fortune, Offered to Connie Mack and Ben Shibe but they did not Bite.

Brass slugs, covered with a solution of copper sulphate, glue and lard, which gave them the appearance of gold coins unearthed after being buried many years on a Gettysburg farm, were offered to Connie Mack and then to Uncle Ben Shibe for $20,000, according to the testimony of witnesses and detectives when they appeared in the Philadelphia Central Station against George Matthews and Fred Abraham alias Fratune. The Times told yesterday how the same men had tried to sell the bogus treasure to a jeweler.

Detectives said that the prisoners had first been introduced to Connie Mack to whom they told a wonderful story of how Matthews unearthed a chest containing 6600 five-dollar gold pieces on a Gettysburg farm. The famous baseball manager refused to be interested and the men were then taken before Uncle Ben Shibe, president of the Athletics.

Having found Eddie Plank on his farm, Ben Shibe was impressed when he was shown a number of verdigris-covered disks. The mould was scratched off for him—and lo! and behold! said Detective Mahoney, there were shining five-dollar gold pieces—at least they looked like it.

The defendants offered the whole bagful, which they said were worth $33,000, for $20,000. But they refused to produce the supposed treasure until the baseball magnate had given them the cash, said the detectives, and Mr. Shibe began to suspect they were too eager. He refused to close the deal, and the peddlers of the unearthed fortune took it to other quarters.

Both prisoners refused to talk. They were each held under $800 bail on charges of attempting to obtain money under false pretenses and carrying concealed deadly weapons.

Abraham Garfinkle testified that twelve days ago he was told that a man wished to sell 6600 gold pieces he had found on his farm near Gettysburg. Several coins of dates prior to 1860 were shown Garfinkle, and after the verdigris was scratched off, they were tested.

When the jeweler found they withstood the acid test, he expressed a willingness to proceed with the purchase. Abraham, he said, refused to turn the coins over until he was shown the cash. Harry Garfinkle, the jeweler's brother, said that when he heard Abraham's demand, he called up Captain Cameron. While waiting for the detectives to arrive, the jeweler whiled away the time by scratching the verdigris on the coins. He found that the mould fell off very easily, and suspected that something was wrong.

In the meantime, Abraham left, and the detectives, knowing he would again attempt to sell his wares to the jeweler, went to the vicinity of the latter's home and hid in a stable. True to their surmise, Abraham and Matthews appeared at the place, and were arrested.

Matthews had an automatic revolver tied about his wrist with telephone wire. Abraham also carried a revolver. Both weapons were loaded.

CHAUTAUQUA MEETING

LOCAL AMATEURS GIVE GOOD PLAY

Dust of the Earth Produced for Benefit of the Fire Company Gave Pleasant Evening and Good Results. Strong Cast and Good Play.

Gettysburg's amateur players were at their best Thursday evening when they presented "The Dust of the Earth" before an appreciative audience. The play and purpose deserved a crowded house but the attendance was disappointing and the net receipts, which go to the fire company, amounted to between $50 and $60.

The play has to do with the presence in a household of an unwelcome niece whose mother is dead and whose father is unknown; with a daughter eager for a proposal from the wealthy owner of a large estate; and with a strange old gentleman who has lost his memory. After three acts of unhappiness which finally terminated in her leaving the home of her aunt, the unwelcome niece finds that this strange old man is her father who was supposed to have been killed years before in the mountains of Switzerland. His reason returns and he establishes his claim as the real owner of the large estate and the erstwhile owner, deeply in love with the girl, is glad to relinquish his claim to the mansion while she consents to marry him.

Miss Mary Ramer, as the niece—"the dust of the earth" in the eyes of her aunt—was all that could have been desired, the role requiring at one time the care-free joy of a happy young girl, the indignation of one suffering an unjust wrong, sorrow over her plight, and the attractive coyness of a maiden in love.

Erney Ziegler showed his usual well developed talent as Wandering Tom, the old gentleman who had lost his memory; and Mrs. R. H. Bushman, as the aunt constantly annoyed by the niece's presence in her home, was up to her usual standard in amateur theatricals which is saying a great deal. E. W. Stallsmith was the colored attendant of Wandering Tom and he again showed his skill in handling such a part. Miss Anna McCall, as the daughter eager for a proposal, made her first appearance on a Gettysburg stage.

Richard Mishler was most acceptable as the uncle and Alban McShirer as his son. Charles Swisher was the successful suitor and Edgar Miller took the part of Rev. Dr. Templeton, village parson. No home talent show would be complete without Miss Lily Dougherty in one of her accustomed roles and as Miss Arabella, "the village newspaper", she completed a most excellent cast.

BOY WHIRLED IN MACHINERY

Young Son of Mr. Linebaugh, of Fountain Dale, Has Narrow Escape from Death when his Clothing is Caught by Engine.

Caught in the gearing of an engine and thrown against the governor where his clothing was torn from his body as he was whirled about, Lawrence Linebaugh, the nine year old son of I. O. Linebaugh, of Fountain Dale, had an experience that would have resulted in his death but for the timely arrival of an older sister and brother who dragged him away from his perilous position.

They did not get to his side, however, before practically all his clothing was torn in shreds, a severe gash cut in his head and almost his entire body covered with bruises and abrasions. The boy is in a serious condition but his recovery is expected unless some unlooked for complications should arise.

Mr. Linebaugh has a gasoline engine and chopping mill and was doing some chopping while the little son was playing about the place. The little fellow got too close to the engine and his clothing was caught in the gearing from where he was thrown against the governor where he was whirled around several times. The arrival of his brother and sister was just in time to save him from more serious injury or death.

Thrown from Scaffold

Jerome Border, of Abbottstown, received numerous cuts and bruises in a headlong plunge of fifteen feet from a scaffold at the Alwine brickyards at Berlin Junction.

Mr. Border operated the derrick that draws the raw material from the quarry by means of a cable car, and it is supposed that when he dumped a car of shale his clothing was caught in some manner at the car and he was thrown headlong to the rock and dirt, 15 feet below.

Upon examination a wound was discovered over his left temple that required a number of stitches to close, besides numerous bad bruises about his head, body and limbs. After receiving preliminary treatment, he was removed to his home in Abbottstown, where he is improving under the care of Dr. T. C. Miller, the family physician.

Arm Painfully Scalded

HUERTA PLANS TO HOLD ON FOR YEAR

Every Act of Dictator Approved
by Mexican Congress.

NEWSPAPERS ARE CENSORED

Suppresses News of Defeats and Is Determined to Continue Absolute
Sway Over Military Affairs.

Mexico City, Dec. 5.—Provisional President Huerta accepts the congressional endorsement of his action in calling for an army of 150,000 men as complete approval of his course in defying the United States.

Officials of the government were notified that he would continue to exercise for one year his powers as dictator relating to measures for war. These were part of the powers which he seized when he dissolved the old congress and assumed a complete dictatorship.

"Congress" is in full accord with President Huerta," said one of the cabinet ministers. "It realizes that he is doing everything possible for the pacification of the country."

"The revolution in the north would probably have been crushed long ago had supplies not been sent across the border to the so-called Constitutionalists. The embargo by President Wilson was a joke. At all times the rebels have been able to get supplies."

"General Huerta is a Mexican patriot. He will die before he will surrender to the enemies of his country."

Every act of Huerta as dictator has now been approved by congress, and he is safe from prosecution on the charge of usurping power. From a legal standpoint he has made his position secure, but the blows dealt to his generals in the north and rebel activity in the south indicate that the net is slowly but surely encircling him.

The government supplies are dwindling daily. If Huerta succeeds in collecting 150,000 men for his army he will be unable to provide many of them with equipment.

Huerta declared that the country was self-supporting, and that forced loans, if made necessary, would enable him to resist indefinitely. So long as he was able to obtain American oil, he did not regard the shutting off of oil from the railways as vital.

Constitutionalist troops began a bombardment of Mazatlan, the other Mexican port on the Pacific coast. They opened a rifle fire on the city late Wednesday, killing forty-five Federal soldiers and five non-combatants and wounding the night posted there cannon on the hills about the city. At dawn these poured shells into the city and into the harbor, about the Federal gunboats Tampico and Guerrero.

As soon as the bombardment opened, General Resgado, the Federal commander, ordered all the citizens to leave, as the gunboats were about to open fire on the city. The gunboats' guns were only a short range and their shells are likely to fall into the city.

Constitutionalist troops were captured by the Zapatistas. Thirty persons, mostly women and children, were killed. A priest was shot to death.

The government has ordered newspapers to publish no details of military movements, excepting information obtained from official sources. As the only official news given out consists of reports of Federal victories, this order means that the public is not to be informed of any of the reverses which have become so frequent.

Anxiety among the Americans in increasing. They fear that when Huerta finds himself unable to resist the blows of the rebels he will invite the lower classes against citizens of the United States in the hope of intervention, which he thinks would rob the Constitutionalists of the fruits of their victories.

900 REFUGEES ARRIVE

Swell Colony of Fugitives in Laredo, Tex., to 2500.

Laredo, Tex., Dec. 5.—Nine hundred refugees arrived here by train from Monterrey, increasing to 2500 the number that have fled across the border since the present exodus began.

At Nuevo Laredo, just across the border, Mexican Federalists took from the train Rev. Leandro Garza Mora, a Presbyterian minister, and his two sons and jailed them as rebel sympathizers. All three were released by the efforts of Consul Garrett.

FACED FIRING SQUAD: LIVES

Mexican Federal Officer Tells of His Marvelous Escape.

Mexico City, Mex., Dec. 5.—Colonel Barbosa Gostie, a Federal officer, faced a rebel firing squad after the battle of Aviles and, with two bullets in his breast, lived to tell the story.

He reached the capital and told of his almost miraculous escape. The colonel said that after the battle he and nineteen other captured officers were blindfolded and backed against a stone wall to await execution by a firing squad told off by the rebel commander.

When the soldiers fired the nineteen others fell dead. Gostie fell with the others and was left for dead, but in the night he revived and managed to make his way to Mexico City.

MRS. PANKHURST ARRESTED ON SHIP

Detectives Outwit Suffragists and Capture Leader.

Plymouth, Eng., Dec. 5.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragists, was arrested on board the White Star liner Majestic and landed to be taken to a government house by government detectives, who outwitted six suffragist detectives of Mrs. Pankhurst, who had been brought to Plymouth by Mrs. ("General") Flora Drummond.

At Devonport Mrs. Pankhurst was taken ashore and placed in an automobile, which set off in the direction of Exeter, where she was placed in jail. She was under strict guard all the time.

The arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst, followed reports that the government would allow her to go to London, and these reports caused the Pankhurst bodyguard, headed by "General" Drummond, to relax some of its vigilance.

However, "militant" were on their way from Plymouth to "rescue" their leader when she was suddenly whisked away. The militants arrived at Devonport too late to try to effect a release. Mrs. Pankhurst still has more than half of a three-year jail sentence to serve in England, having been released on account of illness.

Imperial Chancellor Goes to Explain and Threatens to Resign Unless He Is Upheld.

Berlin, Dec. 5.—The Kaiser faces the long impending crisis between the people and militarism.

The Zabrern scandal has reached such importance that the emperor must give personal ruling on the future attitude of the German military toward the German public.

The Kaiser's lifelong friend, Count Charles Von Wedel, post as governor of Alsace-Lorraine is in jeopardy. The emperor has summoned him and the commanding general, Lieutenant General Berthold Von Deiling, to conference.

The imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, facing immediate loss of his portfolio, is to report to Kaiser Wilhelm.

According to the National Zeitung, his resignation depends on the emperor's treatment of Count Von Wedel, governor general of Alsace-Lorraine, and Lieutenant General Berthold Von Deiling, the commanding general of the troops at Zabrern. The newspaper adds that if the action of the military should be upheld by the emperor the imperial chancellor will go into retirement with Count Von Wedel.

Demands for the resignation of the imperial chancellor were voiced by the Tageblatt, the Frankfurt Gazette and other radical newspapers.

A vote of non-confidence in the German government in connection with its attitude in regard to the troubles between the military and the civilians at Zabrern, Alsace, was adopted in the imperial parliament by 235 against 54. One blank paper was handed in while 49 members were not present.

The imperial chancellor, aware that even his own supporters are blaming him for the absence of any definite declaration as to how he is going to deal with the authors of the incidents at Zabrern, is expected to appear at the opening of the session. He was visibly much exercised over the situation. Taking the floor at once, he declared that Emperor Wilhelm had expressed extreme displeasure over the occurrences at Zabrern, and had given the general in command strict orders that such violations of the law as the shutting of the streets by the military and the arrest of civilians should not be repeated.

Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg denied the existence of a secret funder government in Alsace, which overruled the decisions of the recognized authorities—as had been reported—and said that he would resign instantly if such a thing were true.

"The present incident is a serious one," the chancellor said, "not because of the possibility of my resignation, but because of the danger that the Zabrern incidents and the debates in the imperial parliament may lead to a permanent breach between the army and the people. The imperial chancellor and the emperor are in thorough accord in the belief that a policy must be adopted which will heal this strife."

Since the emperor gave orders to avoid any further conflicts there has been no disorder at Zabrern. The civil inhabitants, however, show resentment at the recent incidents and proposals to withdraw the appropriation of 250,000 which they voted this summer for the construction of new barracks and drill grounds.

FINDS MOTHER MURDERED

New York Dressmaker Slain and Man Who Lived in House Sought.

New York, Dec. 5.—August Guth, twenty-one years old, an electrician, returned from his work to his home at 265 West Forty-fourth street, a little late for supper.

Hurrying to his room, he took off his coat to wash. Without looking, he threw it on top of a blanket that was spread across his bed.

He turned on the electric light and noticed that there was something huddled up beneath the blanket. He pulled back a corner of the covering and saw the face of his mother. She had been murdered, shot through the heart.

Ten minutes after Police Captain arrived a general alarm was sent out for Oscar Vogt, thirty-nine years old, a chef, who had lived with Mrs. Guth for six years. He was quarreling with her violently on Sunday, when her sons refused to support him and demanded that he leave their home.

LITTLE LORD JESUS.

Away in a manger, no crib for a bed,
The little Lord Jesus laid down his head,
The stars in the bright sky looked down where he lay,
The little Lord Jesus he slept on the hay.
The cattle were lowing, the baby he cried,
But little Lord Jesus no crying he died,
How still, how quiet, how alone he lay,
How still, how quiet, how alone he lay.
And they lay by my side till morning came,
From the manger to the cross he came,
And they lay by my side till morning came,
From the manger to the cross he came.
—Martin Luther.

Presents For the Boy

FINDING things for the boy at Christmas time may seem more difficult, although no doubt he has just as many wants as his pretty sister. Silver knives with good blades, substantial key rings, pencils and fountain pens always please. Certain things in the jewelry line appeal to the average boy—a case containing cuff buttons and the pin to match or a good looking watch fob. An inspection of the leather shop displays will soon convince the shopper that there are dozens of things a boy can use and enjoy. Why not give him a leather case containing a soft felt hat or a pair of folding slippers? An other case holds what is called the vacation outfit—a flat clothes brush, two coat and trousers hangers and a folding shoe horn. Leather stickpin cases and collar boxes are also acceptable.

The fastidious boy will not scorn monogrammed handkerchiefs, silk socks and attractive ties. The boy who has arrived at the age and stage of caring about his room will want college pillows, pennants, etc. If one wishes to invest more money in the boy's Christmas, there are automobile hampers and extra equipments, cameras, hunting and fishing outfits, fieldglasses, etc. Every boy wants skates. For the book lover there is always a goodly store of books, or one may have a characteristic bookplate designed.

Smallest Book in the World.
The smallest book in the world was made in Italy. It is not much larger than a man's thumb nail. It is four-tenths of an inch in length, a quarter of an inch in width and contains 208 pages, each with nine lines and from 95 to 100 letters. The text consists of a letter written by the inventor of the pendulum clock to Madame Christine of Lorraine, in 1615.

Essay on Being Good.
A small girl on the front form was looking very miserable. "What is the matter, Doris?" asked the teacher, anxiously. "Don't you feel well?" "Yes, teacher, I'm only trying to be good."—Manchester Guardian.

TWENTY DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe Bought Her Christmas Presents Early.

WAISTCOATS LEND DISTINCTION TO SUITS AND GOWNS

The well dressed woman wears to tea in the afternoon a simple, smartly cut frock of satin, crepe de chine or duvetyne, plain or figured. If the dress be of plain material the omnipresent vest is broadened or figured, showing dainty Oriental color combinations, and if the gown is figured the vest is plain. There is scarcely a gown that does not show the vest in one form or another. It may be only a couple of inches wide or it may be the regulation waistcoat, but it invariably lends distinction.

Dull blue duvetyne in 7798 was touched to brightness by the vest of figured silk duvetyne and the giraffe of burnt orange satin. These rich, strong colors may be used boldly this season if handled cleverly so as to avoid crudeness. Often several of them are used on one costume with a most charming effect. The waistcoat may show in its broad bits of blue, gold and cerise, and what could be smarter on a dark suit or gown?

The blouse of this model shows a drop shoulder, and the skirt is a two-piece peg-top. A medallion of lace gives a finishing touch to the collar.

To copy in size 36 4 3/4 yards of 36 inch material will be needed with 1/2 yard of contrasting material.

No. 7798—sleeves 34 to 42.
Each pattern 15 cents.

To obtain either pattern illustrated fill out this coupon and enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin. Be sure to state number of pattern and size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust. Address Pattern Department, care of this paper.

HOW WE GOT OUR CHRISTMAS HYMNS.

Many popular Christmas hymns have a most interesting history. Those who have heard the waits and carolers sing "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing!" on Christmas eve will be astonished to know that many years ago it was rendered "Hark, How All the Welkin Rings!" and was sung to the tune of "See, the Conquering Hero Comes." When this former wording was adopted in the new hymn book of the "Hymns Ancient and Modern," there was a great storm of criticism from those who prefer the modern version. The hymn was written by Charles Wesley.

The author of "Christians, Awake! Salute the Happy Morn!" was John Byrom, Manchester's famous man of letters, who was born at Kersal in 1691.

Byrom had several children, but, like many another father, there was a favorite. This child was a little girl named Dolly. A few days previous to Christmas Mr. Byrom, after having a romp with the favorite, Dolly, promised to write her something nice for Christmas morning. On the morning of the great day, when she sat down to breakfast, she found on her plate an envelope, addressed to her in her father's handwriting. It was the first thing she opened, and, to her great delight, it proved to be a Christmas carol addressed to her, and to her alone.

Another very popular Christmas hymn is that entitled "As With Gladness Men of Old." It is remarkable that this cheerful hymn was written at a time of great depression. The author, William Chatterton Dix, who died in 1900, had been seriously ill for a long time, and he was feeling disconsolate and miserable.

One evening, after he had been some weeks in bed, he felt a great deal better, and while in this improved state he conceived the idea of writing a Christmas hymn, and as a result of this we get "As With Gladness Men of Old."

"Once in Royal David's City" is the most popular Christmas hymn for children. It was written by Mrs. Alexander, who also wrote those famous hymns, "There is a Green Hill Far Away" and "We Are but Little Children Weak."

Welcome Christmas.
Now thrice welcome, Christmas.
Which brings us good cheer,
Mince pies and plum porridge,
Good ale and strong beer,
With pig, goose and capon.
The best that may be,
So well doth the weather
And stomachs agree
—Old Song

Just So!
"I wonder," mused the thoughtful looking man, "why so many people put their wallets under their pillow before going to sleep?" "Well," suggested the club wit without hesitation, "maybe they like to have a little money to fall back on."

DO YOUR CHRISTMAS BUYING CHEERFULLY; IT'S GOOD EXERCISE

CHRISTMAS shopping is filled with bustle, excitement, pleasure and good exercise. Who ever has not tasted these things has yet to experience all of the joys of Christmas.

It is true every shopper, once arrived home, vows Christmas is a nuisance; that it is the part of wisdom to have it only once a year; that next Christmas some younger member of the family must take upon herself the onerous, fatiguing, brain wrecking, nerve straining work. But no one who hears this declaration takes it for more than its value—which is infinitesimal—when the next Christmas puts in its appearance and shops and stores and streets are once more alive with hurrying humanity and good natured crowds the shopper who voted it "kill ing" this year will plunge into the excitement as of old, with greater enjoyment than ever.

It is true the elbowing of one's way through crowds, the long waits in the stores, the standing in cars almost bursting with their load of human beings and the despairing delays of these selfsame cars are apt to leave very little balance on one's account of cheerfulness. In spite of these hindrances, however, lies the true satisfaction, if not real pleasure, of having purchased for this one or that some little surprise which has been longed for, but never expected.

For mental attitude and for a hint from the athletic teachers the wise woman will go into the work of Christmas shopping with the exhilarated feeling rightfully attached to any form of pleasant and exciting exercise. The cultivation of this spirit will make the crowds, the discomforts and the inevitable disappointments of the annual gift purchasing experience no more worth fretting over or noticing than the varied experiences of the athletic field or gymnasium, and it will bring the aforementioned wise woman up to Christmas day in the most enviable and desirable physical condition she could fancy or imagine, for every thing depends upon the manner in which the feminine shopper attacks the Christmas situation, and a well conducted round of Christmas shopping provides as much fun as the merriest game of basketball or tennis and stirs up and strengthens neglected muscles just as well.

Shrewd Dodge.
"This new murderer is a foxy one." "How so?" "Declares he's perfectly sane. Now, of course, everybody will have to go to work to prove he's sane."

Praise For Bear's Emulsion

Cured Her Cold, Restored Her Appetite and Built Up Her Run-Down System.

Dr. John D. Bear, Elkton, Va.
Dear Sir: I had been complaining of a cough every winter for four or five years, during which time I lost flesh, had no appetite, felt very weak and run-down. I heard that Mrs. Robert Early praised your Emulsion so for run-down systems and coughs, so I went over to see her one day and after she explained to me how it had benefited her I bought a bottle and began to improve after the first couple days. On buying the second bottle I decided to weigh before taking it. I found to my great pleasure that I had gained eight pounds while taking the second bottle. I can recommend it to anyone wishing something for a cough and a good tonic.

Yours very truly,
Mrs. J. W. Simmons.

Bear's Emulsion tones up the stomach, builds up the system, gives appetite and gives strength to the body. We ask every run-down, nervous, aged, weak or any one suffering with weak lungs, to try a bottle of Bear's Emulsion and if it does not do as claimed return empty bottle and get exactly what you paid for it.

HUDSON Six 54, $2250

Experience Six-Cylinder Smoothness in Your Four

—But This is the Only Way You Can Get It

SPEED your Four up to 30 miles an hour or more on a smooth road. Then throw out the clutch and close the throttle.
Or coast down a long smooth hill with the motor running idle.

The feeling is that of flying. There is no vibration. In this particular the sensation of riding in a Four approaches that felt in a Six.

But, in a Six, the smoothness is ALWAYS there. You ride like constant coasting. In the HUDSON Six 54, up hill and down, on rough roads or smooth, fast or slow, the feeling is always the same.

No Four—no matter how powerful or through what combination of gears its power is transmitted—can be made to ride so smoothly.

Come, take a drive in the HUDSON Six 54. If you enjoy driving, take hold of the wheel and feel for yourself the full meaning of that much-talked-about "smoothness and flexibility of the Six."

In no other way will it have such meaning for you.

Try coasting with your Four on a run of 100 feet!

Then come, see us, we'll show you how to do it for 300 miles, all day, without fatigue. It must be in a HUDSON Six 54.

His Thrilling Experience.

The following is an extract from a youthful autobiography: "I am eleven years old. When I was three I had the scarlet fever. After that I had mumps, measles and whooping cough, soon a great dane jumped and bit my face and then I fell off of a ladder and broke my arm. Mother says boys have much better times now than when she was childish.—Everybody's.

SAYS DRUG EVIL IS WORSE THAN RUM

Scientist Tells of Increasing Use in This Country.

DOCTORS IN ITS THRALLS

Declares Nation Will Degenerate Back to Something Worse Than Monkeydom If Use Is Not Checked.

Philadelphia, Dec. 5.—The United States is now second to China and ahead of every other country in the world in the use of opium and the narcotics derived from it, according to a statement made by Dr. B. C. Kiester, a specialist of Roanoke, Va., before a meeting of scientists and specialists at the Rittenhouse hotel.

"The menace is so great, the speaker said, that there is danger our degenerating back to something worse than monkeydom."

Dr. Kiester's figures were such as even to startle his listeners, who are the delegates to the yearly meeting of the Society for the Study of Alcohol and Other Narcotics. The danger of the habit forming drugs was growing so great, he said, that the only logical course is to cut them out of the pharmacopoeia entirely and prohibit their manufacture.

The figures which the speaker presented show that 400,000 pounds of opium are imported into the United States each year. This is fifteen times as much as is consumed in Austria, Germany and Italy combined.

Seventy-five per cent of this opium is manufactured into morphine. Of this quantity, Dr. Kiester said, 80 per cent is used by morphine fiends, while only 20 per cent finds its way into legitimate medical practice. Morphine is being used extensively even in cigarettes. American cocaine fiends consume 150,000 ounces of the drug each year.

Twenty-three per cent of the medical profession, the speaker continued, are now victims of the morphine habit. Dr. Kiester said the medical and criminal records of the country indicated that a complete abolition of the manufacture of habit-forming drugs, including alcohol, would mean 50 per cent less homicides, 60 per cent less suicides and 33 per cent less lunacy. He said the loss to medicine, whatever it might be, from the prohibition of morphine, alcohol, opium and cocaine, would be worth while, in view of the possible benefits.

Dr. Kiester's statements gained added significance through an address that was delivered immediately after by Dr. C. J. Douglas, of Boston, who described the ravages of a new drug which, he said, is now making fiends by the hundreds in his own city. This is a new product of opium and its discovery has been so recent that no existing state law may be made to apply against it.

This new chemical is called heroin. Its effects are like those of morphine, and it is sold so openly in one district of Boston that the vicinity of the drug store which markets it has become known as "Heroin Square." The fiends, who have increased by the hundreds within the last few months, Dr. Douglas said, regularly hold what are known as "sniffing parties" when the drug is passed out occasionally as the chief means of entertainment.

The various speakers urged that the present means of dealing with confirmed drunkards by means of arrest, fines, imprisonment and the like are not only futile as reformatory or protective measures, but an enormous and unnecessary expense to the community. The methods so far generally employed, it was said, have been prejudicial to both the victims and the taxpayer.

Outdoor colonies, so equipped that otherwise helpless victims may receive prolonged, humane and scientific treatment and a general curtailment of the free sale of intoxicants, were the rules suggested.

Immigrant Wounds Four.

New York, Dec. 5.—Sardis Ishao, a Syrian immigrant, detained at Ellis Island for medical examination since Nov. 28, became violently insane in the detention pen. He attacked his guard, Vincent E. Stowe, probably mortally wounding him with a knife, turned on two aged companions, biting their ears and cheeks severely, and then made for J. E. Lapointe, a watchman. He had nearly severed the watchman's thumb with his teeth before he was subdued.

Wilson Fails to Settle Mine Strike.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 5.—By unanimous referendum vote the striking coal miners in the southern Colorado coal fields rejected the strike settlement proposition made to them by Governor Ammons. The vote was made known when union officials notified Secretary of Labor Wilson of the outcome of the referendum. Secretary Wilson in turn notified Governor Ammons.

Another Fatal Fire in Boston.

Boston, Dec. 5.—The Arcadia hotel catastrophe of Wednesday, in which twenty-eight men lost their lives, was followed by another lodging house fire in which Ed Carroll, a fisherman, perished. Carroll was suffocated in a blaze on the top floor of the Bay State house in Hanover street. The other lodgers, about 100, escaped.

LIFER, WHO SERVED 23 YEARS, FREED

Colored Murderer Pardoned by Governor Goldsborough.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 5.—John S. Hudson, colored, a "lifer," who had served twenty-three years in the Maryland penitentiary, was pardoned by Governor Goldsborough. Hudson killed John Butts, colored, in Worcester county in 1890.

Prior to taking final action on the pardon, which was strongly recommended by State's Attorney Johnson, of Worcester county, and the seven members of the jury who are now living, Governor Goldsborough visited Hudson last week.

"I've heard of person's eyes shining for joy," said the governor, "but when I told that man I would pardon him I realized for the first time just what the expression could mean."

Hudson, after conviction in May, 1890, was sentenced to be hanged on Sept. 12, of that year. Governor Jackson, two days before the time for the hanging, granted a respite until Oct. 10, and two days before the expiration of this extension committed the sentence to life imprisonment.

When told that his pardon had been granted, Hudson was so happy that for a few moments he could scarcely speak, and his round face and fat body drooped with emotion. He talked calmly after the first effects of the announcement and said that he would return to his old home at Snow Hill and work on the farm of his former employer.

TO PASS CURRENCY BILL

Smoot Says Senate Will Act Before Christmas.

Washington, Dec. 5.—It seems likely now that the currency bill will be passed by the senate before Christmas.

"It is my judgment that the bill will go through the senate not later than Dec. 21," said Senator Smoot, one of the leading members on the Republican side.

Senator Smoot's opinion was shared generally by other conservative Republican leaders.

The senate was unable to reach an agreement on the Kern resolution providing for day and night sessions to consider the currency bill.

Former Labor Leader Accuses Executive of Libel in Speech.

Boston, Dec. 5.—A libel suit asking $100,000 damages was filed by James T. Moriarty, former president of the Central Labor Union, against Governor Eugene N. Foss.

The suit is the outcome of a statement given a Boston newspaper, saying that Moriarty had been repudiated by the Central Labor Union.

CHANGE CONSTITUTION

Suffragists Adopt Amendments and Elect Officers.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Adoption of a new constitution and election of officers occupied the sessions of the National American Woman Suffrage association, now in forty-fifth annual convention here. Many hours of discussion preceded the final vote on the constitution. Dr. Anna Shaw was re-elected president.

While the new system of government does not place the finances of the association entirely on a budget basis, to which there has been vigorous opposition, a large portion of the money needed will be raised in accordance with a budget adopted in advance each year. When it was announced that $11,850 would have to be provided in additions to complete the total of $23,625 previously adopted for the budget, it took less than an hour to secure the sum.

Mrs. Champ Clark told the convention that when she was a young girl she had heard Susan B. Anthony speak on woman suffrage and that she had "remained a convert to the cause ever since."

Mrs. Medill McCormick and Mrs. Deha Breckinridge, appointed by the convention to ask President Wilson to see delegates, called at the White House offices and laid their request before Assistant Secretary Forster. Secretary Tumulty had gone to Jersey City to attend the funeral of a relative. The committee was told the president was ill.

SHOOTS HIS BRIDE, THEN TRIES SUICIDE

Couple Secretly Married Four Weeks Ago Found Dying.

Philadelphia, Dec. 5.—Leon Jodry, twenty-five years old, and his bride of four weeks, were found unconscious from bullet wounds in the home of Jodry's mother, at 2310 South street.

The better is that Jodry shot his wife and then attempted suicide. The man's mother believes there was a suicide pact. Both the young people are in a critical condition at the Poly-clinic hospital.

The marriage had been kept a secret, though the bridegroom's mother suspected an elopement. When the bride had recovered consciousness she told the police she had been married to Jodry.

The girl had been taken to the Jodry home several times by the young man. He had been asked by his mother not to bring her there. The elder Mrs. Jodry asked the young woman point blank if she and her son were married. There was no answer.

"If you are, I will furnish a room for you two," the older woman said. Still there was no reply.

The supposition is that she met Jodry and went to his home with him. The two must have slipped unobserved to Jodry's room, for when the young man's mother went to call him she found the girl there.

Mrs. Jodry, the elder, told her son's wife she had better go to her own home. Instead, the girl and Jodry went into the sitting room. A little later Harry Jodry, brother of the young man, heard two shots fired. He ran into the sitting room.

He found Leon and Mary clasped in each other's arms, unconscious from their wounds. Nearby lay a revolver, which had been wrapped in a towel, presumably to muffle the reports.

POLO CHALLENGE RECEIVED

English Team's Request For Match In 1914 Reaches New York.

New York, Dec. 5.—England and the United States will battle again next year for the international polo trophy.

A challenge, sent by the Hurlingham team, of England, which was defeated last season, was received by the American Polo association.

Secretary W. A. Hazard announced that the challenge will be accepted. The English challenge says that the first match be played not later than June 1, 1914.

Immigration Bill In Again.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Mr. Burnett, chairman of the house immigration committee, reintroduced the immigration bill which former President Taft vetoed. It embodies a literacy test and will be reported to the house on Saturday.
